DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Species A, claims 1-5, 9 & 10, in Paper No. 9 is acknowledged.

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The specification contains numerous instances of incomplete U.S. Application Serial Numbers, such as on page 7, line 6 and page 8, line 8.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 2 & 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by DE 76186 (hereinafter DE '186).

DE '186 discloses the invention as claimed including a woodworking machine with a support structure 3, a cutting tool a with a cutting portion, a motor (inherent), a detection system c/8/9 to detect a dangerous condition, and a reaction system 7 adapted to cover the cutting portion of the cutting tool upon detection of a dangerous condition.

5. Claims 1, 2 & 10 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 4,637,289 to Ramsden.

Ramsden discloses the invention as claimed including a woodworking machine, comprising: a support structure 2, a cutting tool 70, motor 10 configured to drive the cutting tool, a detection system 62 configured to detect one or more dangerous conditions between a user and the blade, and a reaction system 124 configured to stop the upward motion of the blade and to retract the blade below the surface of the frame upon detection of a dangerous condition by the detection system, thereby covering the blade with the support structure and disabling the cutting portion of the cutting tool.

Double Patenting

6. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

7. Claims 1, 2, 9 & 10 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 18 of copending Application No. 09/929,235. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claim 16 of 09/929,235 discloses a machine that retracts a cutting tool below a wok surface upon detection of contact between a user and the cutting tool, thereby covering the cutting tool. Though no motor is explicitly claimed, a motor is inherent in such a machine.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 3-5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
